THE NEWS.

Published at Statesboro, Ga.,
EVERY FRIDAY
By The Statesboro News Publishing Co.

Possibly the Chicago crank who tried to kill every fat citizen he met was inspired by the hope of ameliorating the condition of street car passengers during rush hours.

Dairying is a business, and some farmers will succeed where others fail because they have more energy and intelligence, adhering strictly to business principles. The dairyman who gives particular attention to the care of his stock will always be repaid for his labor with larger yields and greater profits.

Cutworms seem to be the most troublesome pest of the season so far, states the Massachusetts Ploughman. Bran mash poisoned will attract and kill them, or a little fence of tarred paper around each plant when setting out will exclude them. The old plan of digging out the pests one by one is slow, but safe and sure. A rather suspicious report arrives from Ireland of an experiment in which all bugs and worms in the soil were killed by a powerful charge of electricity sent through network of wires, but American gardeners are hardly up to such a plan as yet.

Kings Edward, whose good taste in matters of dress and social usage has been a matter of common event since he was a lad, is credited with having set a new fashion in buttonholes. Heretofore Englishmen have been wearing buttonhole bouquets the size of saucers. Particularly the men of "change, many of whom come in every day from their suburban villages, the King has taken to wearing a small flower, with only a bit of green to set it off, in his buttonhole, and the florists and flower "girls" have been quick to note that a change of fashion has set in.

A gentleman who objects to the prod of another man's toe in his back suggests that theatre seats be built so that the penetrative shoe point cannot reach its object. But when the toe cannot annoy, the knee can, declares the New York Sun. What plan of construction will baffle the person who continually knocks the rider of your chair with his knee and shakes you out of your absorption in the play? And if you succeed in ridding yourself of him, what are you going to do with the one who persists in telling, for the benefit of every one within ten feet of him, what is going to happen next? Not theatre chairs, but some theatre-goers need remodeling.

A blight of no small proportions fell upon a lamentably large percentage of the playhouses of the United States last autumn and continued throughout the winter and the spring. Various reasons have been assigned in public prints and in popular talk for this extensive falling off in the patronage of places of diversion, but the attempts at explanation are by no means in agreement. Few American managers enjoyed prosperous times in the eight months from September to May; and news comes from England that the London season has not been as yet propitious to amusements indoors except in a few instances. Fortune seems to have been sadly unfavorable to the purveyors of entertainments on both sides of the ocean.

The Booklover's Magazine states that the Russian population is perhaps the most mixed of all nations, and is made up in large measure of conquered people who still remember their overthrow with bitterness. Probably not far from one-third of the whole—from forty to fifty millions—are true Muscovites. Around the central Muscovites are grouped Lapps, Finns, Germans, Lithuanians, Romanians, Greeks, Georgians and Tartars, with Jews and Gypsies scattered throughout the south and west. These are all in European Russia, and this is nothing to the medley in Asiatic Russia, where there is an almost endless variety of races. Each of the races mentioned speaks a different tongue, and there are at least six different religions among them without coming to sects, such as the Buddhists. Racial and political hatred of Russia burns deeply among the Finns, Poles and Armenians; while symptoms of active revolt are reported among the Asiatic and Turcomans along the Asiatic front.

GEORGIA NEWS.

Epitomized Items of Interest
Gathered at Random.

Minister Jailed for Bigamy.
Rev. J. D. Woodard, a Baptist minister of Commerce, has been indicted in jail at Jefferson on a serious charge. The grand jury of the county found a true bill against him for bigamy.

Wireless Station for Brunswick.
At a recent meeting of the Brunswick city council, a petition was received from the Atlantic DeForest Wireless Telegraph Company, asking permission to erect necessary poles in the city for the establishment of a wireless telegraph station.

Homicide at Tallahassee.
P. T. Shore, a prominent and well-to-do citizen of Tallahassee, was shot four times Saturday night by Colonel W. S. Parry, a prominent lawyer of Clayton, Ga. Mr. Shore died Sunday. He leaves a son, daughter and several brothers to mourn his loss. Parry gave himself up to the sheriff. The cause of the tragedy is not given out.

Brown Assumes Duties.
Joseph M. Brown, of Marietta, became a member of the state railroad commission Monday last, succeeding Hon. G. Gunby Jordan, of Columbus, whose resignation went into effect on that day.

Though Mr. Jordan resigned in May, his resignation to take effect August 15, the fact did not become known until a few days ago, when Governor Terrell made the appointment of Mr. Brown as his successor.

Scalpless Barred From Georgia.
The state of Georgia is now free from ticket scalpers and is the only state in the union that enjoys this distinction, with the exception of Pennsylvania. What is more, the Georgia legislature just before the end of the present session passed a bill, introduced by Senator Howell, of Fulton, entitled "An act to prohibit traffic in non-transferable signature tickets issued by common carriers and to require common carriers to redeem unused or partly used tickets," which will set at naught all scalpers in this state for all time to come.

Dr. Mumford Passes Away.
After an illness of nearly three months, Rev. Dr. W. E. Mumford died at the home of his daughter in Macon, a few days ago. Than Dr. Mumford, few ministers of the gospel in the south were better known. About eight years ago he took charge of the Methodist Orphan Home in Vineland, then a suburb of Macon, and five years ago he severed his connection with that institution and founded the Georgia Industrial Home. An orphan himself at an early age, Dr. Mumford knew well the care that should be given to children left to shift for themselves, and since he founded the institution hundreds of children have been cared for and placed on the road to becoming good citizens.

Increase Will Break Records.
The increase in the total tax returns of the state for this year, aside from the public utility corporations, will be about $2,000,000, with the exception of last year's, the largest increase ever known in the state in a single year.

All the counties have not yet sent in their digests, but with the exact of fiscal information already received at the office of the controller general, and the estimates from the counties whose digests are not yet in, Captain Harrison, chief clerk in the controller's office, has been able to make an estimate of the total increase. This estimate fixes the net additions to the taxable wealth of the state at about $2,500,000 even.

The railroads and public utility corporations have also shown a good increase and given evidence that they, too, have been enjoying their share of the general prosperity, the increase in the railroads, for instance, being $1,500,000. This, with the individual increases, will amount to $2,500,000, in round numbers.

We note with unbounded gratification the evidence of cordial and practically unanimous support given in all the counties of the state to the pending constitutional amendment permitting local taxation for public schools.

We deplore the agitation for taking away from the negro schools the support they have for thirty years past in Georgia, and limiting their support to negro taxes alone. It would be an unspeakable calamity to strike down this policy which has been our proud boast and the complete education of our negroes and the only way to the negro as soon let us say that the poor counties of the state should receive for education only the tax paid in by them; or that in any county the negroes be deprived of the wealth they have expended upon the schools—and only those of the poor upon the poor. Such a measure against negro schools would be a violation of that obligation which the superior race by virtue of its power owes to the weak and disadvantaged race. The existing educational policy has been will be raised, will not be made until about September 1, 1905.

Populist State Convention.
The populists of Georgia will meet in state convention at the state capital on September 14, for the purpose of ratifying the nomination of Thomas E. Watson and Tibbles for president and vice president. State Chairman Hollaway, who issues the call, says he does not know whether there will be a state ticket. The following is the call:

Notice is hereby given that a state convention of the people's party of Georgia is hereby called to meet in the state capital at Atlanta, Ga., on Tuesday, September 14, 1904, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of ratifying the nomination of Watson and Tibbles for president and vice president of the United States, for putting out an electoral ticket and for such purposes as the convention may decide upon. Each county will be entitled to twice as many votes as its representation in the general assembly, and to as many delegates as may be chosen by the party in each county in such manner as shall be determined by the executive committee of each county.

J. J. HOLLAWAY,
State Chairman, Clem, Georgia.
J. D. WOODALL,
Secretary, Barnesville, Ga.

No Money Provided for Judges.
An interesting oversight on the part of the general assembly is generally commented on at the capital. While the legislature passed a bill increasing the salaries of judges of the supreme and superior courts to $4,000 and $3,000, respectively, and the salary of the governor to $5,000, it failed to appropriate any money to pay the increases.

This makes it necessary for the judges to wait until after the legislature of 1905 appropriates the money to pay the back salary increases, to which they will be entitled under this bill, before they can get the money.

The bill provides that the increases shall not apply to any judges who were in commission at the time of its passage, but it will apply to all judges who are to be elected at the coming election in October. Associate Justices Evans and Lamar, of the supreme court, will get their new commissions as soon as the election is over, and the result declared, because they are serving unexpired terms, and the increase for them will then begin.

The increase for Chief Justice Smith and Associate Justice Pugh will begin January 1, 1905, but all these must wait for the money until after the legislature has appropriated it. It is the same with the judges of the superior courts, whose new terms practically all begin on January 1 next; that is for all those who are elected at the coming election.

Strangely enough, however, the bill operates to the decided disadvantage of Associate Justices Andrew J. Cobb and John S. Candler. Justice Cobb will not get the advantage of the increased salary until January 1, 1905, when his new term will begin, if he is elected in 1908. Notwithstanding the fact that they must wait for the increase and five years to get the increased salary, they must, in common with all other judges, give up any free railroad passes and franking, which courtesies may have been extended to them.

Educational Conference Resolutions.
The Georgia Educational Conference at its session at the summer school in Athens passed some important resolutions, a condensed report of which we give below:

Education is the right of every child born into a civilized commonwealth, a right that is independent of circumstances of life or conditions of fortune. To guarantee and secure to the children of the state the opportunity for such development is the prime duty of organized society. We rejoice in the fact that Georgia was the earliest in the Union to recognize these fundamental truths of providing in its constitution for the first system of public schools; was the first to grant a charter conferring upon a woman's college the right to bestow academic degrees; the first to recognize agricultural education in the gift of Dr. William Terrell for a chair of agricultural chemistry; and the first to request for strictly normal education in the will of Governor Gilmer.

CZAR'S FLEET SCATTERED

Sally of Port Arthur Squadron Proved a Fatal and Dismal Failure.

Russia Enters Protest Regarding Seizure of Boat in Neutral Harbor and Other Powers are Notified.

A special from Tokyo under date of Friday, August 12th, says: "Admiral Togo has reported as follows: 'On August 10 our combined fleet attacked the enemy's fleet near Gusan Rock. The Russian vessels were emerging from Port Arthur trying to go southward. We pursued the enemy to the westward. Severe fighting lasted from 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon until sundown. Toward the close the enemy's fire weakened remarkably. His formation became confused and then his ships scattered. The Russian cruisers Askold and Novik and several torpedo boat destroyers led to the southward. Others of the enemy's ships retreated separately toward Port Arthur. We pursued them, and it appears that we inflicted considerable damage. We found life buoys and other articles belonging to the Russian battleship Carewitch floating at sea. The Carewitch was sunk. We have received no reports from the torpedo boats and the torpedo boat destroyers engaged in the attack on the ships of the enemy. The Russian vessels, with the exception of the Askold, the Novik, the Carewitch, and cruiser Paladyn, appear to have returned to Port Arthur. Our damage was slight. Our fighting power has not been impaired. The casualties in the Japanese navy numbered one hundred and seventy.'

WASHINGTON IS INFORMED.
The following Associated Press cablegram was received at the state department Friday from Minister Griswold, dated Tokyo, August 12:

"According to latest reports received at the headquarters of the Japanese fleet attacked the Russian fleet emerging from Port Arthur to the south of Round Island off Tally Bay. The Russian fleet finally defeated, but during the night. Cruisers Askold, Novik and one other destroyer entered Kiaochow bay the night of the 11th. One destroyer fled to Chefoo; two battleships, one cruiser, probably the Carewitch, and several torpedo boat destroyers returned to Port Arthur, between dawn and midday of the 11th. Apparently no damage to Japanese fleet."

A cablegram also has been received from Mr. Fowler, American consul at Chefoo, stating that Japanese torpedo boats entered the harbor and attacked the Russian fleet. One boat which had arrived there several days ago and dismantled, captured her and took her out.

GERMANY ACTS PROMPTLY.
Advices from Berlin, Germany, state that the foreign office confirms the arrival Thursday night at Tsing-Chow of the entrance of Kiaochow bay, the German concession on the Shan-Tung peninsula, of the Russian battleship Carewitch, the protected cruiser Novik and an unnamed torpedo boat. The Carewitch is in an unseaworthy condition, having been damaged in Wednesday's fight. The foreign office has sent instructions to the German authorities at Tsing-Chow to the effect that the Novik and torpedo boat must leave the harbor within twenty-four hours prescribed by international law.

VESSLS MUST BE DISMANTLED.
Russian Boat Takes Refuge at Shanghai and Goodnews Reported.
Consul General Goodnews was called to the state department Friday from Shanghai that a Russian torpedo boat destroyer had just arrived there, and that if these vessels intend to remain more than twenty-four hours at Shanghai, they must dismantle and remain tied up until the end of the war. Probably the treaty of peace which will finally conclude the war between Russia and Japan, will contain a paragraph making disposition of the Russian vessels which have thus taken refuge in Chinese waters.

MILITARY TAKING A REST.
Japs are Awaiting Arrival of More Troops at Port Arthur.
A dispatch from An-Shan-Shan to the Central News, London, relates that according to Chinese reports, the Japanese military operations are all from the fact that three divisions of General Kuroki's force have been sent to assist the troops besieging Port Arthur.

Georgia Legislature Quits
With Much Work Undone.

BALLOT BILL RELEGATED

The Assessor Measure Also Fails to Go Through—Much Good Work Was Done, However During the Session.

The Georgia legislature adjourned Thursday night, having reached the limit of fifty days.

When it was finally agreed by the house and senate conference committees to fix the common school fund at $1,000,000 and the senate adopted that recommendation, the work of the body was practically completed.

The house and senate finally agreed to adjourn sine die at 10:30 o'clock p. m., and when the formal notices were passed, the president of the senate and speaker of the house formally declared the general assembly of 1904 at an end. Owing to several presentation speeches in the house, however, the final adjournment did not take place until some twenty minutes later than that hour.

But from the time the agreement on the school fund was reached, the members seemed to have little interest in anything else before them. Every effort was made to get the house to act on the senate bills piled up on the clerk's desk, and a great many of these were disposed of, most important of which was the money lenders' bill, which the house put through without debate. When the end came, however, there were some twenty-five or thirty senate bills still on the clerk's desk unacted on, which died with the session.

The Australian ballot bill and the Hall tax assessors' bill were killed by failure of the conference committee to reach an agreement, or where an agreement was reached by the failure of one or the other body to adopt the report. Three conference committees were appointed on each of these measures, but despite all the efforts made to bring about agreement, both the house and the senate held out for their respective views on each measure and no final action was taken.

The closing scenes of the house and senate were less disorderly, perhaps than has been the case in years. There was the confusion of conversation and general lack of attention to the proceedings, but outside of this practically nothing that exhibited a lack of dignity or evinced a taste for horseplay.

Numerous matters were acted on during the closing day, and it will keep the clerks of both houses busy for several days to straighten out the tangle of the last day's work.

UP TO JUDGE SPEER AGAIN.

He is Petitioned to Release Negro Women on Valdosta Shalimgang.

A Macon, Ga., dispatch says: Once more will Judge Speer be asked to release prisoners sentenced by a recorder to work the streets, and this time it will be negro women whom he will be petitioned to free from a municipal court sentence. Judge Nottingham, however, does not figure in this case, but it is Mayor J. L. Fincher, of Port Valley.

MILLION FOR GEORGIA SCHOOLS.

Senate, at Closing Session, Recedes from Demand for a Reduction.

The direct appropriation to the schools of Georgia for the year 1905 will be $1,000,000, the senate having given up its demand for a $100,000 cut. This action of the senate was by an overwhelming majority, and was taken during the morning session Thursday, and was based on the report of the second conference committee appointed on the general appropriations bill.

BRYAN LOSES HIS CASE.

Will Not Get $50,000 on Behalf of Late Millionaire Bennett.

A decision adverse to William J. Bryan in the contest over the will of the late P. S. Bennett, of New York, and New Haven, Conn., was handed down Saturday afternoon by the supreme court of errors, after an all-day session. The decision virtually denies that Mr. Bryan is entitled to the $50,000 mentioned in the sealed letter written by Mr. Bennett and addressed to his widow to be read by her after his death. By this letter the widow was asked to give $50,000 to Mr. Bryan and his family.

Macon County, Georgia, Has Stringent Prohibition Election.

After consolidating the returns in the prohibition election held in Oglethorpe, Ga., those of Hicks district were found illegal and were thrown out, making Macon county dry by 23 majority. It is rumored there will be a contest. The county went wet on the face of the returns by three majority.

WILL CATO FOUND GUILTY

Court Does Quick Work at Opening Session—Horrible Details of the Bloody Work of Fiends Told by Witness.

The special session of the Bulloch county superior court convened in Statesboro Monday morning at 10 o'clock for the trial of the murderers of the Hodges family. By daylight the people were coming from all the surrounding country, in bugles, wagons and all manner of vehicles. Every train that entered the town brought tremendous crowds. Both railroads put on several extra coaches to accommodate the crowds coming from a distance. All the adjoining counties were well represented, there being no less than 200 men from Tattnall, nearly as many from Emanuel and a large number from Screven, Laurens and Bryan.

Rev. Hermon Hodges, of Texas, formerly of Bulloch county, a brother of the murdered man, was present and opened the court with prayer and afterwards made a short address to the crowd, in which he begged his listeners not to do anything rash, but to let the law take its due course. He made a very eloquent and touching appeal to the people of the county, and it is believed that his address had a great deal to do with keeping down any disturbance.

On the opening of court, the grand jury was quickly called, and Judge Daly charged them as to the special investigation before them and they returned a bill before noon against Paul Reed and Will Catoe.

A number of witnesses were put on the stand for the state, the two strongest being J. C. Deal, who was the nearest neighbor of the murdered family, and Harriet Reed, wife of Paul Reed, one of the defendants. The latter was allowed to testify as against Will Catoe, the court ruling that she could not testify against her husband.

Mr. Deal told of going to the scene of the fire on the night of the crime and of his discovering the fact that the bodies of Mr. Hodges and his family were in the flames. He told of finding blood in various places in the yard and in the lane near the house, and of the search made next day for evidence in the case. He told of finding the tell-tale shoes, a misnamed pair being found near the premises of the crime, and their mates being found in Paul Reed's house. He testified that Paul Reed's wife had on a dress of the same material as a string with which one of the shoes was laced that was found at the scene of the killing. One of the shoes was found to have blood on it, and they were damp, showing their recent use, it having rained on the night of the crime.

Harriet Reed, wife of Paul Reed, testified that her husband and Will Catoe went from her house to Mr. Hodges on the night of the crime, that they made two trips there together, the second trip having been made after they had killed all the family except one of the little children, and that it was on this second trip that they found her hid behind a trunk and killed her and set fire to the house. She said they came back after matches and that Will Catoe told her they had killed Mr. Hodges and all his people.

She testified that when they finally came back, after the burning, about 1 o'clock in the night, they told her all about the killing and she gave all the gruesome details of their horrible crime just as they told it to her. She said they threatened her if she ever told it that she would be killed, and she explained that was the reason she didn't tell anything until after they had both been caught.

Her story corresponds in every detail with what she told before the coroner's inquest. Both of the defendants showed signs of restlessness during her testimony. Reed seemed at times to be greatly amused at parts of her story.

Catoe made a short statement and admitted that he was asked by Reed to go with him and three other negroes, whose names he did not give, to Mr. Hodges' house, but that he did not go, but went to his own home. He denied having anything to do with the crime.

At 7:15 o'clock Monday night the jury returned a verdict of guilty against Catoe, after being out eight minutes. Judge Daly immediately adjourned court until 8:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, without passing sentence on the prisoner.

BULLOCH OIL MILL

We wish to call the attention of the people generally to our modern Ginnery located in Statesboro, Ga. We have arranged for the coming season to run six sea-island gins, which will turn out one bale of cotton every hour. Also we will run two up land gins, which will turn out one bale every thirty minutes. We can run these gins day and night if necessary, and your cotton can be ginned from your wagon and you can get your cotton and seed the same day you haul cotton to the gin.

We have arranged with one of the best ginners in the county to superintend the gins. Mr. Ben Olliff, who most of the people know, and know his ability as a ginner. We will also have ample help to gin all cotton properly and quickly. We will always buy your seed if you wish to sell them and pay the highest market price in money, or exchange cotton seed meal for them, or we will gin your cotton for money and deliver your seed if you wish. We will always have a good stock of bagging and ties at the gin, which we will sell as cheap as it can be sold.

We will thank the people of this county for a liberal share of their patronage and promise them in advance a fair and liberal treatment at our gin.

We will charge sixty cents per 100 pounds to gin sea island cotton and thirty cents per 100 pounds to gin upland cotton.

We have secured the services of Mr. J. A. Fulcher as our book-keeper, which will assure you that all accounts will be kept correctly.

Again we will thank the people of Bulloch county and adjoining counties to lend us a helping hand in our oil mill enterprise, by giving us the refusal of what seed you have to sell. We don't expect you to sell to us for less than you can get from others but as we are here in your midst and are contributing to the upbuilding of the county by investing the large amount of money in the county, we feel that we can ask you for the refusal of the seed you have to sell. We have not built the mill for personal gain alone, but for the upbuilding of the county, and this section of the country as well.

We don't ask the farmers to sell the seed from the land without replacing something back, but we know that there is more profit to the farmers to sell their seed and replace with meal, therefore we will be glad to buy your seed and sell your meal. We will also buy your cotton in seed, paying highest market prices and exchange cotton seed meal for cotton seed.

Thanking you in advance for your patronage, we beg to remain,
Yours truly,
Bulloch Oil Mill.
